FOREWORD

It is our desire to make this volume of THE NUSHKA a record of the trials and pleasures of our school life, rather than a work of art in photography and classical literature. It is our hope that each page and picture will carry with it a host of pleasant memories. If when the shadows deepen and the candle of life burns low, you take this time-worn volume from its dust-covered repose, and slowly turn its pages, live again your high school days, if your dim recollections are refreshed, and the flickering candle reveals a smile upon your face, then, indeed, our labors have not been in vain.

DEDICATION

To MISS WILMA DELIA BYRD
whom we respect as a teacher, trust as a friend,
and admire as a lady,
do we, the Class of 1950,
affectionately dedicate this,

CLASS POEM

To Glenwood High our thoughts will ever stray,
The place where life is always young and gay.
And as our parting days are growing near;
We thank you for preparing us to go through life without fear.

The teachers will forever in our hearts be blessed,
For the lessons they have taught, and the answers we have guessed.
You who have taught and prepared us so well;
To you dear teachers, we bid you farewell.

To our classmates, we give you great praise,
We shall always remember you in our happiest days.
Although our parting days are growing nigh;
We wish you luck at dear old Glenwood High.

And with our motto, "Not Finished, Just Begun",
We leave our life of gaiety and fun.
To our teachers and classmates of Glenwood High,
We bid you all a pleasant goodbye.

by HELEN EVANS

THE HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1950

On a September day in 1938 the 1938-39 school year began at Glenwood School. For two large classes of pupils this was their first year in school. These classes, made up of scared, and perhaps tearful children, were started on their twelve years' journey by Miss Edna Cranford and Miss Frances Miller.

When the next school year came around several of the pupils had gone to the new Sugar Hill School and the remaining members of the class were under the loving hand of Miss Evelyn Tanner for the next two years.

In the fourth grade, studying really began with "hateful ole" geography, and Mrs. Faye Wells had quite a time teaching it.

Under the calm persuasion of Miss Lillie Pyatt the class passed through the fifth grade and on to Mrs. Lois Shaw in the sixth grade where the class first started making money by selling lemonade. The hard-earned money for the class's own cherished basketball was finally earned and the ball purchased. This was the beginning of the long money-making campaign lasting through 1950.

In the seventh grade Mrs. Dessie Lawing guided the class through the ever-deepening waters of mathematics, history, geography, and English with a firm hand.

The enrollment reached its peak in the eighth grade when the students from Dysartville and Sugar Hill joined the class, making a total enrollment of 62. These students were Hoyt Gragg, Nola Hill, Jean Ledford, Anne Harris, Claude Ledbetter, Mildred Birchfield, Lucille Reel, Leota Marlowe, Margie Harris, Roy Haynes, Walter Harris, Lee Holland, Floyd Haynes, Jean Lytle, Helen Evans, Mary Margaret Deck, Gladys Sumlin, Larry Sprouse, and Lillian Seaman. Miss Wilma Byrd and Mrs. Mary Miller taught these classes.

The Class of 1950 entered high school under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Freeman. Later in the year Miss Wilma Byrd and Miss Shirley Wells were class sponsors. In the election of class officers Nancy Blalock was elected president; Maxine Veirs, vice-president; and Wayne Morris, secretary and treasurer. Jim Haney was elected representative to the Student Council.

Miss Wilma Byrd was the class sponsor in the sophomore year. The class officers were Lillian Seaman, president; Mary Morgan, vice-president; and Helen Evans, secretary and treasurer. Jim Haney and Mary Margaret Deck were the Student Council representatives.

By this time the class enrollment had dropped to 27 and Mrs. Mabel Bradsher became the sponsor of the Junior Class. Under her helpful hand two class projects were successfully completed: the Junior Play, "Miss Jimmy," given in the school auditorium on December 10, 1948, and the Junior-Senior Banquet, which followed the "Deep South" motif, at the Methodist Recreation Hall April 28, 1949.

A big event in the Junior year was the receiving of class rings, the day before Christmas vacation began. The cherished class offices were held by Jim Haney, elected president; Maxine Veirs, vice-president; Mary Margaret Deck, secretary; and Helen Evans, treasurer. The Student Council representatives were Donald Wright, Mary Margaret Deck, and Jim Haney.

The Class of 1950 began its final year under the guidance of Miss Wilma Byrd. The election of class officers and the annual staff were among the important business at the beginning of the year.

During the years the class enrollment rose as high as 62 in the eighth grade and dropped to 23 in the twelfth. Of the original class which began school in the fall of 1938 at Glenwood, Dottie Marlowe, Alene Painter, Nancy Blalock, Mary Morgan, Grace Kaylor, Jim Haney, and Wayne Morris are all that remain.

As the 1950 NUSHKA goes to press, the Senior Play, the Junior-Senior Banquet, and Graduation are uppermost in the minds of the Seniors. The last semester of the Senior year is the realization of every high school boy's and girl's dream.

Each Senior can truly say to his teachers, parents, principals and friends, "I am a part of all that I have met."

CLASS PROPHECY

While I was looking through my desk drawers in the Superintendent's office of the Winston-Salem Baptist Hospital last week I came upon two old, and much wrinkled, sheets of paper with the title "Prophecy of the Class of 1950, Glenwood High School, by Grace Kaylor." How one saves things of no importance in their old age! To think I wrote it almost 25 years ago and here it is still.

I wonder if it came true; I think I'll read it over again to refresh my memory.

"I, Grace Kaylor, prophesy that:

Gladys Sumlin will marry a rather wealthy man who will live only a few years after their marriage and in 1965 she will be employed as ticket agent at Statesville Bus Terminal.

Joyce Marlowe will become a private nurse and nurse the grandson of John D. Rockefeller in New York, whom she will marry along with the Rockefeller millions.

Mary Margaret Deek will nurse all her life at Charlotte Memorial Hospital and will never marry.

Larry Sprouse will become a bus driver for Greyhound Bus Lines and will marry Mary Sue Hogan.

James Monteith will complete the sowing of his "wild oats" in Bermuda and will return to Marion to operate the Monteith Hardware Store.

Walter Harris will remain the same steady boy he now is and will become the foremost farmer in Montford's Cove.

Hoyt Gragg, after spending several years playing All Star basketball is now owner of the "Glenwood Rosebud."

Lexie Laws will receive her A.B. degree from Appalachian State Teachers' College, will become first grade teacher at the new Jacktown Elementary School.

Erlene Reel will nurse at the Mission Hospital in Asheville until she meets the Rev. Father John Van Johnson, a retired Episcopal minister, whom she will marry.

Rosa Lee Baker, who always did more listening than talking, will become the unmarried operator of the telephone exchange in Dysartville.

Floyd Haynes will become owner of the Haynes Construction Company of Gainesville, Georgia. He will marry a "high stepping little doll," from New York.

Jim Haney will become a Lutheran minister and will later become the president of Lenoir Rhyne College in Hickory. He will never marry!

Donald Wright will become president of the First National Bank of Glenwood and will marry Mary Morgan.

Mary Sue Hogan, because of her ability as a good housekeeper, will "catch" Larry Sprouse within the space of 2 years and 5 months after graduation.

Mary Morgan will become assistant manager of Belk-Broome Company in Marion and will get all the first hand gossip to pass on to her husband, Donald Wright, and her Glenwood friends.

Helen Evans, one of Mrs. Bradsher's star French pupils, will go to Paris, France, to become a dress designer in the style shoppe of Jacques Faut.

Lee Holland, after obtaining his M.D. degree from Duke University, will become one of Charlotte's most famous surgeons.

Nancy Blalock will become the private secretary to the leader of the Democratic Party in Washington, D. C. In 1970 she will still be unmarried.

Wayne Morris, after obtaining a degree in Physical Education from N. C. State College, will climb quickly in his profession and will become football coach at Notre Dame.

Dottie Marlowe will become head of the staff of nurses and private secretary to the Doctors McClony, Applewhite and Kapple in Atlanta.

Alene Painter will become owner and operator of the "Glenwood Style Shoppe."

Harold McCullaeh, after two years service in the U. S. Navy, will attend N. C. State College and become County Agent of McDowell County."

Well, in one's old age we like to reminisce but this is the last time I will waste my time reading this paper. I shall burn it and let fate have her way with the Seniors of 1950.

LAST WILL and TESTAMENT

We, the Class of 1950, being of sound mind and body, realizing our present position and all the fine work we have done during our brief stay here, and thinking we should leave our profound thanks and some of our many talents, do hereby make and publish this our last will and testament.

ARTICLE 1

We direct that all our just debts and graduating expenses be paid as soon after our departure as may be done conveniently.

ARTICLE 2

To our parents, we bequeath our deepest appreciation for the opportunity that they have made possible for us to secure our education.

ARTICLE 3

To Mr. Whitesides and the faculty, we leave our sincere thanks for their efforts and patience in guiding, inspiring, and teaching us.

ARTICLE 4

To our classroom teacher, Miss Wilma Byrd, we leave our thanks, our profound admiration, and ever-enduring friendship.

ARTICLE 5

We, the aforesaid class, being several in number, do hereby will and bequeath our personal possessions:

I, Donald Wright, leave my rough and rowdy ways to Clarence Lamb.

I, Nancy Blalock, leave my string of boys and "nite life" to Doris Hemphill and Louise Killian.

I, Mary Margaret Deck, leave my love for geometry to Frances Laughridge.

I, Dottie Marlowe, leave my cuteness to Connie Vess.

I, Gladys Sumlin, leave my quiet ways to Ruby Gilliam.

I, James Monteith, leave my wit to Bennie Parker.

I, Erelene Reel, leave my giggle, some laughter, and the privilege of keeping the Juniors out of the Senior classroom to Betty Morgan.

I, Hoyt Gragg, leave my title of "Best Looking Boy" in the Senior Class to Ivan Landis.

I, Jim Haney, leave my excess height to Bobby Eplee.

OF THE CLASS OF 1950

I, Rosa Lee Baker, leave my luck of being the high school faculty's pet to Reba Bowman.

I, Wayne Morris, leave my ability to catch the girls' eye to Carl Rash.

I, Harold McCulloh, leave my desire to get out of typing class to Donald Hickman.

I, Helen Evans, as the only "blond" in the class, leave my wig to Betty Wilkerson.

I, Mary Sue Hogan, leave my sparkling personality to Ruby Marlowe so she might brighten the rising Senior Class.

I, Lexie Laws, will to Lucille Laws my place on the annual staff as snapshot editor.

I, Grace Kaylor, will to Doris Rumpfelt my position as class prophet.

I, Mary Morgan, will to Agnes Wilkerson my ability to giggle the whole day through.

I, Lee Holland, will my title of "Neatest Boy in the Senior Class" to Charles Walker.

I, Larry Sprouse, leave my collection of Dysartville girl friends to Billy Guffey.

I, Walter Harris, will my ability to dodge the girls to Dean Elliott.

I, Floyd Haynes, will my love for Mrs. Anderson's geometry classes to Junior Harris.

I, Joyce Marlowe, leave my friendly manner to Millie Lawing.

I, Alene Painter, will and bequeath the responsibility of writing this will and testament next year to Leroy Williams.

We, the Class of 1950, do hereby nominate and appoint our principal, Mr. W. P. Whitesides, sole executor of this our last will and testament, and instruct him to carry out its provisions to the letter.

In witness whereof we have hereto subscribed our names and affixed our seal this fifteenth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty.

Signed:

ACTIVITIES

BASKETBALL

Basketball is again the leading sport at Glenwood. The students always look forward to having a good team. Since seven of last year's team graduated, most people were a little doubtful about the success of this year's team, but so far it seems that the school has the best basketball teams in the county. Miss Bertha Martin, health and physical education teacher, was chosen as coach for this year's teams at the beginning of the season.

The teams named themselves the Dragons and the Dragonettes. Shortly before Christmas the teams received warm-up jackets in the school colors, red and black, with their names on the back of each jacket.

This season's first teams are composed of Nancy Blalock, Joan Holland, Betty Jo Brookshire, Betty Anderson, Sarah Margaret Morris, Jeanne Glenn, Wayne Morris, Hoyt Gragg, Donald Wright, Edward Poteat, and Robert Bowman. The second team is made up of Dottie Marlowe, Elsie Kaylor, Gwendolyn Vess, Eleanor Silver, Peggy Holland, Nadine Huffman, Rogert Poteat, Bennie Parker, Max Parker, Walter Harris, and Marvin Williams.

The first game of the season was played with Old Fort where the teams started out with a double victory. The final score for the Dragonettes was 33 to 25 and the Dragons 62 to 29. Joan Holland was high scorer for the girls and Hoyt Gragg high scorer for the boys. The team was well backed by a large group for this first game. The cheerleaders made their first appearance with their red and black uniforms and everyone thought they looked "quite cute."

Spirits were high and the fighting Dragons and Dragonettes were ready to go when they met Pleasant Gardens on December 6. Pleasant Gardens has always been the school's most dreaded rival and there was much rejoicing when the teams won a double victory. The girls' score was 20 to 10 and the boys' was 25 to 15.

The teams sailed off to Spindale on December 12, to defeat Rutherfordton Central High by a wide margin. The girls' final score was 33 to 8 with Betty Jo Brookshire, freshman, high scorer for the girls. The boys won by a score of 27 to 15 and Hoyt Gragg carried off the score banner.

The Dragons and the Dragonettes shared a split victory the next night when they played Nebo at Marion High. The girls were a bit too confident and they lost the game by a score of 28 to 20. Betty Jo Brookshire was again high scorer with a total of 14 points. The boys were victorious with a score of 37 to 23. The fast-moving, never-miss corner shot of Hoyt Gragg's again took down 24 points.

On Wednesday night, December 21, the teams played North Cove at Pleasant Gardens. Glenwood brought home a double victory with the girls winning 20 to 16 and the boys 44 to 13.

Under the direction of Coach Bertha Martin the teams have played good games thus far in the season. A thing more outstanding than the victories on the scoreboard is the fine sportsmanship which the teams have displayed under her direction.
